MOVING FORWARD

"...IT IS SPIRITUALLY

UPLIFTING TO WORK

WITH THE MANY,

MANY FINE PEOPLE

WHO CHOOSE TO

WORK OF KCU."

President Jeff Metcalf, Ed.D.

It is not uncommon during the course of conversations with friends to hear some variation of, "I could never have a job that requires me to ask people for money!" The implication is that somehow asking people for financial support is a dreaded prospect, and that I must be crazy to actually enjoy the fund-raising portion of my responsibilities as president of Kentucky Christian University.

While I, admittedly, find raising money progressively more difficult as the tentacles of the prolonged economic downturn continue to reach ever more menacingly into the lives of the families and churches who serve as KCU's primary supporters, fund raising is a terrific opportunity to engage with others who care deeply about the educational ministry of KCU. It is a unique and privileged experience to be a party to a decision by others to bless the University, often as an intentional act of gratitude for the blessings which God has poured into the life of the giver. Truly, the necessity to practice generosity is a theme which is woven throughout the fabric of both the Old and New Testaments and it is spiritually uplifting to work with the many, many fine people who choose to support the work of KCU.

The Way Forward

In this issue of The Voice you will find information related to our $1.75M campaign, The Way Forward. You will notice a theme as you review information related to The Way Forward - students! This relatively modest capital campaign has been strategically designed to provide much needed investment in areas critical to students: technology upgrades to ensure that students are afforded the opportunity to study in a technology-rich environment; facilities upgrades to enhance the living and learning physical environment of KCU; and, scholarships which are desperately needed to make it possible for students and their families to make the choice to study at one of the finest Christian universities in the nation.

This is not a campaign to erect buildings, acquire property, or build endowments; rather, this campaign is intentionally designed to provide direct and immediate benefits to our students. Much work has been occurring behind the scenes in the "silent phase" of the campaign, and we are incredibly excited to now enter the "public phase" having already received gifts and pledges amounting to almost one-half of the $1.75M total! I hope that you will decide to generously support this important campaign.

Moving Forward in Uncertain Times

As I mentioned previously, the financial environment of the past four years has been increasingly austere, likely the most pervasive and lengthy economic downturn since the Great Depression. So, how has KCU fared? Through the grace of God KCU has maintained fiscal stability. KCU has finished 19 of the last 20 years "in the black" (with the lone exception being 2008, attributable to the collapse of the stock market); has resisted the temptation to acquire unhealthy levels of debt; and has experienced a record number of students in the fall 2011 entering class.

Surely, God has been good to KCU! While the University has certainly not been immune to the negative effects of a weak economy, I am proud to say that the faculty and staff > be fiscally conservative with the drive to enhance the University's mission to educate students for Christian leadership and service in the church and professions throughout the world. For instance, virtually every unit of the University has eliminated all "non-mandatory" expenses from their budgets; yet, the University continues to move forward with ambitious plans for a pre-professional degree program for students wishing to complete undergraduate preparation in advance of medical, dental, pharmacy, veterinary, physical therapy, or other professional schools (see page 6).

of KCU have done an incredible job of balancing the need to

It is a dedication on the part of the entire faculty and staff to the importance of the KCU mission, and realizing that sacrifice – both personal and professional – is sometimes necessary, that has helped KCU weather this economic storm. I praise God for the opportunity to work with unbelievably talented men and women who have devoted their life's work to raising generations of Christian leaders.

I hope you enjoy catching-up with KCU through this issue of The Voice. Thank you for your support of this most exciting and effective educational ministry.

THE WAY FORWARD

a $1.75M Campaign in Support of KCU Students

by Larry Monroe, Vice President of University Advancement

The Way Forward is a three-year, $1.75 million campaign in support of KCU students which began a one year silent phase January 2011. Throughout 2011 the University has been seeking major donors in support of the campaign as well as establishing the levels of support for each member of the Board of Trustees. I am pleased to report that as we now enter the public phase of the campaign, we do so having raised nearly ONE HALF of our campaign goal.

The Way Forward encourages and stands behind the next generation of KCU students in three ways: overcoming financial barriers, upgrading facilities, and, obtaining up-to-date internet services.

Overcome Financial Barriers - Student Scholarships

Even though KCU is a leader among private colleges in our region with regard to affordability, we must do more. Need for student financial aid continues to increase and in order to make scholarships available to more deserving students the funds must be raised. The Way Forward provides an additional $500,000 in student scholarships.

Enhance Student Experience - Upgrades to Facilities

Our facilities must do more than meet basic needs; they must be up-to-date, and inviting. Many of the buildings on our campus have not been renovated for decades. From dorm rooms, to areas of high student activity and traffic like the Lusby Center, the need for upgrading is evident. The Way Forward provides $775,000 for facilities upgrades.

Enhance Learning - Internet Service and Technology Upgrades

On today's university campus there is a never ending demand for Internet technology and access. It's been said that Internet access is as essential as oxygen to today's college student. Maintaining an acceptable level of Internet service to students is costly. The Way Forward provides $475,000 to enhance our level of Internet service to our students.

Watch your mail soon for more information about The Way Forward and how you and your church can support this important effort and help KCU accomplish its mission of educating students for Christian leadership and service in the Church and in professions throughout the world.

A Special Opportunity for KCU Alumni

Jeff GreeneDirector of Alumni
& Church Relations

Luc Aristhene ('99) wrote recently on our Facebook page: "I believe it is time to really get reconnected to my alma mater, the GREAT COMMISSION University! My years at KCU are unforgettable! I am very thankful for the education I got there which has equipped me to serve our Lord better and to minister to our people here in Haiti."

Like Luc there are hundreds of KCU alumni wanting to "get reconnected to their alma mater." As alumni, most of us were dependent on donors whose sacrificial gifts to the University provided us with scholarships. Their contributions helped us through school and launched us into ministries all around the world. Today's students are no different. It is up to all of us to continue the tradition of supporting our school through scholarships. Our new campaign does just that.

This is an excellent opportunity for new alumni donors. If you have never given a gift in support of KCU, now is your chance to make it count. A generous donor has agreed to match all two-year pledges from new alumni donors 100% up to an aggregate maximum amount of $80,000. Give a new gift to KCU and double it in support of our campaign, The Way Forward.

Will you prayerfully consider a three-year commitment? No contribution is too small. By joining our campaign, you will be "reconnecting" with not only your school but with future generations that will impact the world for Christ. \dagger

by Jeff Greene, Director of Alumni & Church Relations
Wayne Smith offers in his new book, Treasures from My Basement, the following illustration. James Brynes, Secretary of State in the Franklin Roosevelt Administration said the following: "Three words make the difference in the work place and in life: and then some."

- People that do what are expected of them...and then some.
- Individuals who are thoughtful and considerate...and then some.
- Those who meet their obligations and responsibilities fairly... and then some.
- They were good friends...and then some.
- People who can be counted on in an emergency...and then some.

Many of our supporting churches are faithful to the ... and then some ... philosophy. Not only are they committed to the University financially, they are also committed to sending us students. As of this writing, 103 of our current students come from 51 Covenant Churches. A Covenant Church commits a minimum of $2,400 annually. Every student a Covenant Church sends to the University receives a $2,000 annual scholarship. During our 2011/12 school year we will be awarding just over $200,000 in Covenant Church Scholarships.

The Way Forward provides an opportunity for all our churches, both big and small, to again show their ... and then some ...

philosophy by helping us continue to offer scholarships for our students. By making a three-year commitment to the campaign, churches will help us reach our goal of $500,000 in student scholarships, making it possible for even more students to afford a KCU education.

We have set aside Pentecost Sunday, May 27, 2012, as our Church Commitment Sunday. We can't think of a better day than the day that we celebrate the birth of the Church as our launch date. It was then that the Church came together and "devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching". KCU plays a significant role with our churches by passing on the Lord's teaching to the next generation. We can't exist without the support of our churches – through prayers, finances, and students. On May 27 we are asking our supporting churches not only to go beyond their regular gifts to KCU, but to recommit to sending us students and praying on our behalf over the next three years.

Please begin praying about your involvement in The Way Forward campaign. Also, continue to share with prospective students the great advantage of a KCU Christian college education. We know that come Pentecost Sunday we will again be amazed at our churches' response because of their ... and then some ... mind-set.

If you have questions about The Way Forward campaign, please contact the Church Relations Office at 606/474-3298 or via email at jgreene@kcu.edu. With your help we can continue to make a difference in our world for Christ!

KCU STUDENTS: TOMORROW'S CHRISTIAN LEADERS

Winnie Brutus ('12)

La Pointe, Haiti

Major: Bible, Counseling Psychology Kentucky Christian University has been a place where I have grown beyond imagination and where God has molded me into a person with a compassionate heart. I have gotten to know some wonderful people, some who have become my closest friends. One person that has impacted my life the most is Dr. Leonard Knight. Through his classes, Dr. Knight (who by the way models what he teaches), has taught me not only how to be an effective and well-prepared counselor, but also how to nonjudgmentally love those different from me as a true Christian leader should.

My future plans include a graduate degree in clinical neuropsychology. I also plan to return to Haiti to help my father with his school and to work on a project that will enable disadvantaged children (and even adults) to go to school. We also would like to build a home for these children and provide food, clothing, medical care, etc. Above all, I want to share the Gospel and the love of Christ with them.

I will leave KCU confident and well prepared, knowing that I have learned from some of the best.

Andrew Bondurant ('11)

Grayson, Kentucky

Major: Bible and Ministry (emphasis in Youth and Family and Christian Leadership) I did not want to come to KCU. With three sisters who are KCU grads and a father who works there, I wanted to do something different from the rest of my family. But I really wanted to play football however, and KCU seemed to be my best shot. So, I guess you could say I originally came to KCU to play football. I played my freshman year and loved it but my focus soon became ministry, not football.

While at KCU God has transformed who I am. Two professors played a significant role in this; Dr. Brian Baldwin and Dr. Jim Girdwood. These men have impacted the way I view the world, scripture and who I am as a person. Through my relationship with these professors, as well as my friendship with an incredible group of KCU friends, God has developed my character in unimaginable ways.

I have also had the opportunity to be a part of beginning a student led Bible study simply called "God Talk" and have built some meaningful relationships with fellow students as we study Scripture on a weekly basis. It has been incredible to see God work in my own life and in the lives of other students through the study of His Word.

"The chapel is central to campus life at KCU and the time had come for something to be done."

NASH CHAPEL REMODEL & REDEDICATION

by Jeff Greene, Director of Alumni & Church Relations

"This temple was in need of repair." These were among the descriptive words used by President Metcalf as he spoke about the condition of the Nash Chapel auditorium at a rededication ceremony during Fall Homecoming.

A good crowd of alumni and friends assembled in front of Nash Chapel as the newly remodeled and refurnished auditorium was rededicated, and renamed, the Ernie ('62) and Judy Miller Auditorium. Renovations were made possible as a result of a generous gift from the Miller's in support of the University's capital campaign, The Way Forward.

Bill Bondurant, Vice President of Business and Finance, who led the task force charged with the remodeling had this to say about the project, "The furniture was in terrible condition and in many areas the carpet was held together with duct tape. Also, lighting was poor and our audio/visual equipment was horribly out of date. The chapel is central to campus life at KCU and the time had come for something to be done. We had a tremendous desire to complete the project in the summer months because we wanted the students to return in the fall to a beautifully remodeled auditorium. Crews worked tirelessly in order to finish by the targeted completion date. It was precious to see the reaction of our students, faculty and staff."

Following the ribbon cutting ceremony attendees experienced an inspiring chapel service with worship music and message brought by KCU alums Jamie Coates ('91) and Todd Bussey ('84) respectively.

KCU RECEIVES Largest Grant in Its 93 Year History

by Larry Monroe, Vice President of University Advancement

KCU's new Biology/Pre-professional program received a significant boost in the form of a $1,000,000 project in support of the program. The project is being funded with a $500,000 grant from the James Graham Brown Foundation of Louisville, Kentucky, which was matched by an anonymous, private donor. The grant, the largest in the history of KCU, was contingent upon this matching element.

The Biology/Pre-professional program is led by Dr. Mitch Marshall, Associate Vice President of Health Sciences. The project will allow for the renovation of Trinity Hall (former library, teacher education, and nursing building) for classroom, office, and laboratory space, as well as provide additional faculty and staff to support the program. The project also includes the razing of one uninhabitable dorm, Neal Hall, to provide much needed space for student parking.

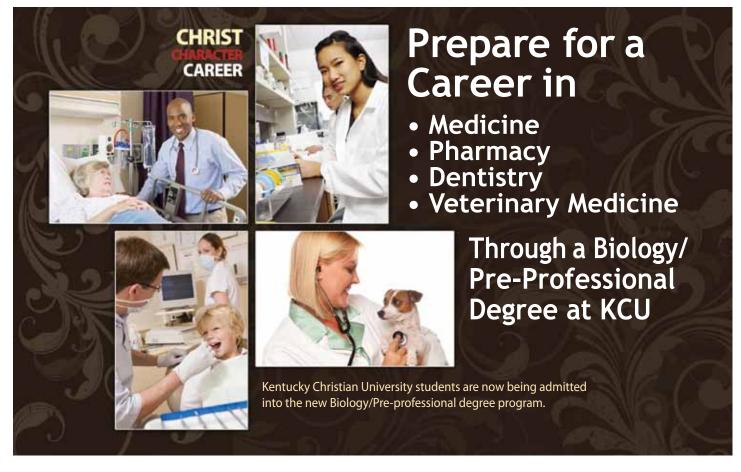

Dr. Marshall states, "This program has been on the University's strategic plan for several years and I am happy to have the opportunity to provide leadership for it. The standard at KCU to demonstrate academic and professional excellence is set very high as we train nurses, educators, business leaders, ministers, social workers and other professionals. I am excited to work to instill aspirations of excellence in those undergraduate students who want to pursue further study in ultra-competitive professional schools."

NEWS FROM THE ACADEMIC COMMUNITY

STUDENTS PLAN ARCHAEOLOGICAL DIG

In May 2012 KCU students will again have an opportunity to experience a life changing event under the leadership of Dr. Ralph Hawkins, KCU Professor of Bible & Archaeological Studies. Dr. Hawkins and a team of students will return to the Jordan region of the Holy Land to participate in an archeological dig at Tall Jalul, a region thought to possibly be the site of Biblical Heshon, the Amorite capital of Sihon against which the Israelites fought in Numbers 21. While in the region the group will have an opportunity for sightseeing at several other Biblical and historical sites.

KCU NURSING GRADUATES ATTAIN RARE ACHIEVEMENT

Yancey School of Nursing's 2011 graduates have achieved something very few schools of nursing across the country have achieved: a 100% first-time pass rate on the rigorous licensure examination, the National Council Licensure Examination for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN).

KCU AND ASHLAND COMMUNITY AND TECHNICAL COLLEGE SIGN AGREEMENT

Presidents Adkins and Metcalf sign articulation agreement

Kentucky Christian University and Ashland Community and Technical College signed a nursing articulation agreement Thursday, December 8, 2011. The agreement applies to ACTC students who are accepted into the Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing Program at KCU and establishes guidelines for transferring Arts and Science courses from ACTC to the Yancey School of Nursing.

President Jeff Metcalf states that, "KCU is extremely pleased to partner with ACTC in making it as seamless as possible for ACTC graduates to continue their education. ACTC and KCU share a passion for helping meet the educational needs of our community and our programs are complimentary, not competitive. We are natural partners."

Each year US News and World Report issues its "Best Colleges" rankings, and we are pleased to announce that Kentucky Christian University has been ranked one of the "Best Regional Colleges" in the South!

President Metcalf shares this about the USN&WR ranking, "The faculty and staff of Kentucky Christian University place a tremendous emphasis on infusing quality in all we do. While we know intimately the quality and value of a KCU education, it is nice to receive validation from an external source as widely recognized and trusted as US News and World Report."

GRANDPARENTS' DAY A SUCCESS

The Second Annual Grandparents' Day was held on Thursday, September 15, 2011. Cooler temperatures and rain prevailed for most of the day, but that couldn't dampen the smiles and hugs that were seen across campus. 95 Grandparents from 10 states, even from as far away as California, visited 56 students on a very special day.

Attendees David and Laura Jean Rittenhouse had this to say about the day: "Thank you for a wonderful day. It could not have been better! We were even met at our car by students with umbrellas. Everywhere we went, folks were friendly. We pray for the special ministry of KCU."

The 2012 date is set for September 13.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE ELVA YOUNG WELCOME CENTER

Who among those who knew Elva Young would not recall with fondness her warm, loving and hospitable nature? It therefore seemed fitting when administrative discussions focused around the need for a new and inviting KCU welcome center that it should be named, The Elva Young Welcome Center, in memory and honor of KCU's third first lady who gave so much of herself in support of the college.

Kimberly Robinette, KCU Manager of Advancement Operations led the task force assigned to the project and had this to say about its importance, "The Elva Young Welcome Center project is an exciting and needed change on KCU's campus. Our task force worked very hard to include within the renovation plans the many activities hosted in Lusby Center and how the lobby area welcome center will function for these events. We believe the re-design will meet these needs providing a warm, welcoming atmosphere for our campus family and guests and are looking forward to the completion of the project."

The project, which is scheduled to be complete as students return to campus after Christmas break, includes the removal of the old "fish bowl" glass and counter, replacing the floor tile, wall décor and lobby lighting. New furnishings will grace the welcome center, presenting a warm, inviting area for our guests to be greeted and welcomed.

DANIEL WHITE TO LEAD OUTREACH INITIATIVES

In an effort to support the outreach endeavors of the University and to work toward a more strategic approach with regard to outreach planning and execution, specifically in support of new student recruiting, the Advancement Department of KCU has appointed Daniel White ('08) to the position of Outreach Coordinator.

As a member of the Advancement Team, Daniel will be responsible for Outreach and Camp Team recruiting from among the KCU student body, will have some involvement in team training and will work closely with Jeff Greene, KCU's Director of Alumni and Church Relations, Sheree Greer, KCU's Director of Admissions and the KCU Music Department in the strategic planning of Outreach travel destinations. Daniel will also represent the Advancement Department with regard to planning Destiny travel as well as assist in the coordinating of Concert Choir tours.

To schedule a KCU Outreach, Camp Team or Destiny for an event at your church contact Daniel White at 606-474-3111 or dwhite@kcu.edu.

Kentucky Christian University, in tandem with the professionals at Financial Planning Ministry (FPM), partners with Churches and their memberships by offering estate planning seminars. These informative seminars will reveal sound, individual estate planning advice and well as provide fundraising opportunities for churches and other ministry partners.

Some benefits to you and your church?

• Free: There is no cost to our supporting churches or their members.

- Avoid probate: A revocable living trust effectively avoids probate.
- Discover more funds for Kingdom work: The average family will lose $16,000 to $60,000 in probate costs. Freeing up these costs creates opportunities for greater Kingdom impact at the local church level and on a broader basis.
- Meet your needs: Trusts aren't just for the wealthy a common myth.
- Successful results: FPM has over 11,000 estate plans created and over $500 million in total planned gifts to ministries such as the local church and other worthy mission organizations.

To learn more about this opportunity and how a free Living Trust seminar will benefit you and your congregation contact Larry Monroe, Vice President of University Advancement at 606-474-3282 or Imonroe@kcu.edu.

MULTIPLY DONATIONS WITH MATCHING GIFTS

Did you know that with an employer sponsored Matching Gifts Program you can often double or sometimes even triple gifts to KCU?

Matching gifts are not only a great benefit to KCU and an encouragement to the individual donor to give, but these programs also give the sponsoring corporation the opportunity to be good public citizens in supporting worthy organizations like KCU.

Every KCU alum and friend who works for a corporation, commercial enterprise or other secular organization should check with their Human Resource Department to find out if they can take advantage of a Matching Gifts Program. This benefit is also often available to retired employees as well.

A list of companies offering this benefit can be found at the "Give to KCU" section of the KCU website at www.kcu.edu. For assistance completing the necessary matching gift forms provided by your employer contact the KCU Business Office at 606-474-3209.

Thad, Skye, Lynne, Barry, and Bethany Taylor

by Barry Taylor

Our churches and communities have been blessed for generations with leaders trained at Kentucky Christian University. Several made their way to LaBelle View Church of Christ in my home town of Steubenville, Ohio and, in return, LaBelle View sent some of its best to Grayson. Our family's relationship with KCU was strengthened with the arrival to our home (and church) of former KCU English Professor Kathy (Cool) Taylor, and then my later "settling down" in Huntington, West Virginia, not far from Grayson.

Twenty years ago my wife Lynne and I contemplated how we might honor our children in a concrete, long term way. My parents served as missionaries to New York City and this heritage, coupled with our attachment to KCU led us to establish a KCU preaching scholarship in the name of our first daughter, Skye. We hoped a permanent fund in her name would create for Skye a personal, life-long tie to KCU and prompt discussion in our family about the importance of charitable giving, college attendance, financial planning, reliance on others, and God's abundant provisions.

Lynne and I were fortunate to be raised in families which valued education. We both graduated college, placing us in the minority in Appalachia where most young people do not attend college, and significant numbers of those who do are the first generation in their family to do so. More will attend if the education is attractive and affordable. Skye's scholarship would help make the cost of attending college less of an obstacle for preaching students at KCU. What a blessing!

program got underway we couldn't resist establishing a nursing scholarship in Bethany's name. In a few short years KCU's nursing program has established a strong, local reputation that is expanding. Employment opportunities abound for nursing graduates and the University has capacity to enroll more students in this program. It's a blessing to know Bethany's scholarship is helping KCU nursing students graduate!

"Establishing endowed scholarships at KCU has been a great and continued blessing to

was obvious even as a toddler, and so when the KCU nursing

"Establishing endowed scholarships at KCU has been a great and continued blessing to our family."

Establishing endowed scholarships at KCU has been a great and continued blessing to our family. Skye and Bethany comprehend the importance of charitable giving and helping others they may never see. They have "a piece of the action" at KCU with their name attached. They feel important, and they should!

Some leaders may be born; we are persuaded that many more are trained. Christian education is necessary for successful leadership in our homes, churches, and communities, and our generation is responsible for playing a role in developing that leadership.

P.S. We do have a third child, a son named Thad, who we would be remiss not to mention. Larry Monroe has told us he would welcome another endowment. Hmm.

Editor's Note: Barry Taylor has served as a member of the Board of Trustees of Kentucky Christian University. The Taylor's attend Central Christian Church in Huntington, WV where Barry serves as an Elder.

TRUSTEE SPOTLIGHT

KCU Alums Join Board of Trustees

Jim Gibson ('77) grew up in Fleming County Kentucky and is a graduate of Fleming County High. While at KCU he was active in athletics as a member of both the Knights basketball and baseball teams. He regards his time at KCU as being foundational in several ways. "I came to KCU as a kid who had a difficult childhood and left as a young adult who knew Christ was the anchor of my life. The entire staff gave me direction in those critical years. Professors taught me how to learn and encouraged me to make learning a lifelong endeavor. As a result, I was, with the strength of the Lord, able to achieve well beyond my own abilities."

After graduating from KCU Jim's vocational path included pastoral work as well as a career in banking. He currently serves as President and CEO of Integrity Bank in Camp Hill, Pennsylvania, an institution he founded, which in just eight years has grown to a $590 million asset bank.

Jim is involved in his community and serves on the Boards of several organizations, such as: The Pennsylvania Association of Community Bankers, West Shore Chamber of Commerce, African American Chamber of Commerce and the Multiple Sclerosis Board of Directors. Jim and his wife Beverly, a real estate professional, reside in Lititz, Pennsylvania.

Over the past 26 years Jon Glista ('86) and his wife Cathy ('86) have worked alongside some truly transformational ministries and have made their lives about helping to build and equip the church, convinced that it is indeed the "hope of the world."

Upon graduation Jon served as a youth pastor at Orrville, Ohio until he and Cathy answered the call to join a church planting team starting Mountainview

Community Christian Church just south of Denver, Colorado. The past 16 years the Glistas have served in the Dayton, Ohio area with SouthBrook Christian Church, where Jon worked with the Small Group Ministry, Leadership Development and Worship Arts/Programming.

While having built one of the leading real estate businesses in Dayton, Jon's passion and energy continue to be focused on SouthBrook where he serves as a key member of the worship and weekend experience team and where Cathy serves as Director of Children's Ministries. Jon and Cathy have two children, Allison and Devyn.

Dr. Jerry Sanders Becomes Board Chair

At the September meeting of the KCU Board of Trustees, the Board named Dr. Jerry Sanders ('82) as its new Chair. Mr. Ken Perkins III, Chairman of the Board from 2008-2011, had this to say about Dr. Sanders' appointment, "Dr. Jerry Sanders has served as an exemplary member of the Board, having earned the trust and admiration of both his fellow Trustees and the faculty and staff of the University. While I have enjoyed serving as Chairman, I am thankful to be able to pass the baton to such a trusted and talented leader."

Dr. Sanders has had a long and successful career in educational leadership. He currently serves as the Assistant Superintendant of Instruction in the Metropolitan School District of Martinsville, Indiana. Jerry and his wife, Lisa, have three children, Hannah, Joel, and Jared. In addition to serving as the Board Chairman, Dr. Sanders will also be a "KCU parent" as Hannah has signed a national letter of intent to play soccer for the KCU Lady Knights!

KCU president, Dr. Jeff Metcalf states, "We are fortunate to have had outstanding leadership from Chairman Perkins and it is comforting to know that Dr. Sanders will provide continuity in terms of leadership excellence. Dr. Sanders is a seasoned academician and educational leader and has a heart for educational ministry. I am eager to work with him as we look to a challenging and exciting future at KCU."

CONCERT CHOIR CONTINUES TRACK OF EXCELLENCE

Under the leadership of Dr. Mark Deakins, the KCU Concert Choir brought in the Christmas season with three on-campus performances of "Sing Gloria", and by invitation for the fourth time performed before thousands at the Gaither Homecoming Christmas Concert at the Big Sandy Superstore Arena in Huntington, WV.

ATHLETIC POST SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

LADY KNIGHTS SOCCER WIN THIRD CONSECUTIVE REGIONAL TITLE

The Lady Knights Soccer team finished their season with a 6th place national finish and a 9-8-2 overall season record, a great first season under new Head Coach, Joshua Miller.

Coach Miller had the following to say about the season. "We had a very successful season. I enjoyed watching the team grow, learn and come together. There were some high and low points and we used those experiences to make us better as a team which, as a coach, is something I am always looking for." $\psi$

Coach Miller was voted 2011 Region Coach of The Year by the Mideast Region coaches. KCU reached the NCCAA II National Tournament by winning their third consecutive NCCAA II Mideast Region crown and then receiving the #4 seed. The Lady Knights were awarded the National Intercollegiate Soccer Officials Association Team Sportsmanship Award. Senior Jessica Proudfoot was named to the All-Tournament team for the second year in a row after collecting the Mideast Region's MVP award. Her teammates Kayla Castleman and Kayla Blevins received 2nd team honors. #

KNIGHTS BASKETBALL VS. THE KENTUCKY ALL-STARS IN EXHIBITION GAME

On Tuesday, October 18th the KCU Knights basketball team opened the 2011-12 season with a rare opportunity to take on the Kentucky All-Stars in an exhibition game at Morehead State's Academic Athletic Center. The All-Stars features many past UK and current NBA players including Shelvin Mack, former Butler star from Lexington, KY, former Morehead stars Maze Stallworth and Kenneth "K-time" Faried and former UK stars Ravi Moss, DeAndre Liggins, Brandon Knight, DeMarcus Cousins, and Josh Harrellson.

The Knights traveled to the campus of Morehead State University to face the All-Stars in front of a crowd in excess of 6,000 at the Academic Athletic Center.

KCU hometown favorite Blandon Clemons talked about playing the Kentucky All Stars, "It was a lot fun playing in front of a large crowd again. I played in a packed AAC during a high school regional tournament and it was nice to play there again. KCU came out ready to play and have fun, but with a season to prepare for we couldn't just mess around the entire time. It was great playing against the All Stars and showing people what KCU could do. Hopefully our performance will result in the fans attending some of our games at KCU." †

LADY KNIGHTS VOLLEYBALL WIN 6TH CONSECUTIVE REGION TITLE

The Lady Knights volleyball team completed a 31-11 season by ending 2011 with a 5th place national finish. KCU punched their ticket to the NCCAA II National tournament by defeating Johnson University in the Mideast Region Championship match in Knoxville, TN. This was the Lady Knights 6th consecutive region title!

Following the national tournament, Head Coach Bruce Dixon reflected on the season, "We had an exceptional year and when I look back on the experience it will be with a great amount of pride with regard to what the team accomplished. Seniors Ally Hall, April Hershauer, and Samantha Jarvis led us in so many ways, spiritually, emotionally and statistically. Our four-year seniors tallied 115 career wins. That's pretty special."

April Hershauer was named the Mideast Region MVP and went on to be named both a NCCAA II 1st Team All-American and AVCA (American Volleyball Coaches Association) 1st Team All-American for the third, straight year. Also, Ally Hall experienced her first All-American team earning NCCAA / AVCA 1st Team honors.

KNIGHTS FOOTBALL PLAYS ON CAMPUS

On October 1, 2011, for the first time in the 92 year history of Kentucky Christian University, an intercollegiate football game was played on campus. KCU took on Georgetown College, a perennial NAIA National Championship contender. The Knights played a great game for the crowd but when the final horn sounded, they lost to the #5 nationally ranked Tigers, 24-13. Just two weeks later the Knights won their first on-campus Homecoming game against West Virginia University Institute of Technology and ended the season with a 4-7 record.

Head Coach
Furry had the following to say about his first season, "My primary goal
for this season was to focus on respect;
respect for each other, respect athletically and

President Metcalf receives first installment of a $30K pledge in support of KCU football from Dennis Dorton, President/CEO of Citizen's Bank respect on and off the field. While there is always room for improvement, I believe we made great strides in accomplishing that goal. I am proud of the guys and look forward to what the future holds for KCU football."

NEWS & EVENTS FOR ALUMNI & FRIENDS

NEW ADDITIONS TO ALUMNI OFFICE

Jeff Greene has accepted the position of Director of Alumni and Church Relations. Jeff received his undergraduate degree in 1979 and his MA in Christian Leadership in 2009. Since graduating from KCU, Jeff has ministered to churches in West Virginia, Michigan and Florida. He also has served several years on the mission field as a church planter in Brazil.

Jeff and his wife Patty ('79) have three children and five grandchildren. Jeff follows Larry Marshall, former Director of Alumni Relations who is now serving as KCU's campus minister.

Clerrinda Walker Queen joined the Advancement staff in support of Alumni efforts after becoming an alum herself this past May. Clerrinda earned her degree in Business Administration with an emphasis in Management.

She is married to fellow alum Brad Queen ('11) who is the Defensive Line Coach for the KCU Knights football team.

"It Feels Good to Come Home"

Fall Homecoming a Great Experience for All

That was the sentiment felt by our alumni when they came back on campus for our 2011 Fall Homecoming. We saw alumni from as far back as 1962 returning for a special reunion, some for the first time in nearly 50 years.

We had a group of 45 alumni attend who were students during the first half of the 1980's. Dan Foss from this group put out a challenge, "Last year we brought 35, this year 45, next year our goal is 50. Are there any other groups that can match that?" We hope so!

Mark the date down – October 19-20 for Fall Homecoming 2012 and let's see if any other group can match Dan's. Check out the pictures of an unforgettable Fall Homecoming throughout this Insider section.

"Since graduating from KCU I earned my Masters of Humanities from the University of Dallas and now I'm busy working two jobs; part-time as an adjunct Professor at Dallas Christian College and full-time for an air conditioning company in Dallas, Texas.

Advanced Biblical Studies major/Humanities minor

At the air conditioning company many of my co-workers are non-Christians. Everyone knows I'm a Christian, and because of this, I occasionally have opportunities to field some tough questions about life, meaning, God, etc.

Recently a co-worker's father was diagnosed with a terminal brain tumor and given a bleak prognosis. The co-worker, a non-Christian said to me, "Hey, you're religious. Everything happens for a reason, right?" Instead of not knowing what to say, or freezing for fear of saying the wrong thing, I was able to talk to him with real substance; something I believe was possible in large part because of the training and knowledge I gained at KCU, both in and out of the classrooms.

As an adjunct professor, the preparation I received at KCU is very evident. I teach Introduction to Philosophy, and one of my goals is to show students that philosophy, perceived by many as being antagonistic toward Christianity, is not simply the sum of intellectuals trying to do away with God, but is instead a way of thinking - a gift from God to be used for His glory. My KCU professors showed me that such an endeavor is not only possible, but necessary. They were true philosophers – lovers of wisdom – and I strive to emulate their servant hearts and minds as I follow in their footsteps.

When I arrived at KCU I was naïve and didn't think I had much "growing" to do. I soon found out how wrong I was. Building close relationships with young men from different walks of life broadened my perspective to the point that I can honestly say I gained just as much from the people of KCU as I did from my studies in the classroom."

"At this time in my life I suppose one might consider me a professional student. I am focused, working towards becoming a Counseling Psychologist. After I graduated from Kentucky Christian University, I went on to earn my Masters degree in Counseling Psychology from Abilene Christian University in 2008. Now, I am in my fourth year at the University of Kentucky working towards a PhD. I think I am finally seeing the light at the end of the proverbial tunnel!

In the fall of 2011 I applied to sites nation-wide for my year-long capstone internship, and I will begin collecting data for my dissertation this coming spring. My academic goal is to complete my PhD program by December of 2013. My ultimate career goal is to enter into the world of academia as a tenure-track assistant professor of Counseling Psychology. I also hope to begin a private practice on the side working with adolescents and adults who have anxiety concerns, eating disorders, and relationship issues.

As I look back on my experience at Kentucky Christian University, I can clearly see that it prepared me for my career by providing both didactic training and experiential opportunities to grow in my knowledge of the counseling psychology field. As a part of my training I was also gaining experience working as a volunteer with clients in the surrounding community. Having professors encourage me to continue in my education and provide guidance on the process of applying to graduate school was helpful as well.

The mentors I was blessed to have at Kentucky Christian University (from professors, resident assistants, and job supervisors) further cultivated a passion in me to more authentically explore a deeper relationship with Jesus through their leadership and Christian example. Through Bible-based courses, on-campus devotional opportunities, and conversations with mentors, I grew in my spiritual journey sharing in the joy of true spiritual community with other brothers and sisters in Christ."

The Alumni Office has established a goal of recognizing our younger alumni in the VOICE. This new section will be entitled, World Changers. The criterion for selection in this section will include: accomplishments since leaving KCU, ministry impact, exceptional community/world impact, extended education in pursuit of additional degrees or other types of advancement in career or study. Please contact Clerrinda Queen in the Alumni Office at cqueen@kcu.edu to nominate an alum that has a particularly inspiring, noteworthy story.

One Family's Adoptive Story

Ray ('98) and Jody ('05) Jester entertained the idea of adoption for a long time. Ray likes how the Bible refers to us being adopted as sons of God. "It is a sober declaration of the reality that love, contrary to what Hollywood would tell us, is a decision and not an emotion." They had two biological children, but their strong feelings about adoption led them to much prayer and eventually to going through classes to get their foster license. They envisioned adopting an additional child or two, but God had other plans for them.

Soon the Jesters found out from a family in their church about a group of six children, all siblings who had gone into foster care. This family was caring for the three oldest and suggested that Ray and Jody look into getting the three younger children who were in separate homes. Eventually all three of these younger siblings would end up with the Jesters and almost overnight they went from parents of two to parents of five.

No sooner had they gotten settled with their three new children than thoughts about the three older siblings began to stir their hearts. The family who had the three older siblings asked if Ray and Jody might consider taking them as well. Ray said that his initial response was, "NO WAY!" But almost from the beginning his wife Jody was willing to do it. She developed a very close relationship with the oldest girl and that opened the "door in our hearts to all of them." Ray and Jody believe it's important to allow them to grow up together. "They say the sibling bond is stronger than the parent/child bond, because siblings grow up together their entire lives through adulthood, when parents move away, or eventually pass away," says Jody. So on December 17 of 2010, the three older girls came to live with them. The children's ages range between four and 16 years old.

Ray recently wrote on his blog; "Jody and I love these kids now as if they were our own, really because they are. They have changed our lives in so many ways. We moved from the first house we ever purchased in order to accommodate a mega family. We have to take two vehicles wherever we go. We always have someone needing us for something. We always have laundry to do or something to clean up and at times it is overwhelming. We'll probably have to build a house because there just aren't any on the market that would be ideal for a family our size. Family has taken on a new meaning for both of us. I have one sibling and my wife has two so this is uncharted water for us. Our incredible friends, family and church family are all sacrificially generous and supportive of us. We potentially have six weddings to plan/pay for in our future, eight high school graduations, hopefully eight college graduations and more birthdays than I could hope to remember."

The adoption became official in May of 2011. The Jester family story of love, grace and redemption continues to impact a community more than anyone could have imagined. The Jesters attend Sarasota Christian Church, Sarasota, FL where Ray is the Worship Minister and Jody is the Director of Children's Ministry.
