What Are You Reading About Stamps?!

July 1st is U.S. Postage Stamp Day! Most of us communicate through email and texts today, but stamps have been an important part of the U.S. postal system since 1847. The US postal system was established in 1775 & Benjamin Franklin was the first postmaster general. In 1847, adhesive postage stamps were first issued & in 1855 they were made mandatory. Stamp collecting, philately, has been popular for many years. Even now, people are creating digital stamp collections!

Celebrate this day by reading one of these books. Click on the book cover to read the book! There are 3 mysteries, 1 title on collecting, and 1 title on the adhesive stamp inventor.

Then, just for fun, watch the movie, Charade, starring Cary Grant and Audrey Hepburn. It is a great comedic, romantic, & suspenseful mystery! Click on the movie poster to watch.

LIBRARY TECHNOLOGY HELPFUL HINTS:

Digital Entertainment

It is a hot summer & we have almost a month before students return to campus. What can you do for entertainment when it is hot, rainy, & you are tired of swimming because you are not a fish? Look for digital versions of traditional hobbies! See some of our holidays in the calendar! Do you like to build puzzles? Go to Jigsaw Explorer! Did you love Etch-a-Sketch? Try it online! Do you like to play chess? Try Chess.com! Use a search engine & type in your favorite hobby or entertainment to find ways to do it online!

Summer Reading Challenge Update

Just a quick update! We have 12 participants who have read a total of 138 books! It is not too late to participate. Click on the image above to learn more!

Best Wishes to Josh!

Josh Blevins will be leaving KCU in July for a new position as an instructional librarian at Morehead State University. We will miss him, but wish him the very best in this great opportunity!
