What Are You Listening To? Take a Chance on Audiobooks!

As the Spring semester wraps up, you may already be thinking about what you will be investing your time in, the people that you will be hanging out with, the plans you want to make. Maybe this is the Summer that you finally start to read that book that has been in the back of your mind all year. Maybe you're wondering how you could possibly get into reading. You've always been too busy or could never find the right book to immerse yourself in. Maybe you are an avid print book person and are seeking a different way to engage with reading. If this is you, we would encourage you to try out an audiobook this month! Click on any of the book covers down below to get started! They are all free and available through LibriVox! Check out our Tech Tip article to learn more about this amazing digital library service!

Tech Tip - Open an Ear to LibriVox Audiobooks!

Turn on your listening-ears to LibriVox! By simply going to librivox.org on the Web or downloading the mobile app (App Store or Google Play Store) to your mobile device, 40,000+ free titles would be at your fingertips!

Sometimes it's hard to make time to read during the hustle and bustle of Finals, a summer job, family, friends, vacation, and everything in between. Try to look for ways to incorporate reading into your day-to-day life by tuning in to an audiobook instead of music or podcasts. Why not choose to spend time with stories on your drives, when you workout, or while you do laundry? Who knows what worlds you will find, characters you will meet, and adventures you will go on? Happy Listening!

Ozzyfest is coming to KCU on Friday,

May 1st, from 6pm-9pm!

Enjoy live music, food trucks, karaoke, and more! This fun-filled event will help raise awareness and encourage families affected by DIPG, a terminal pediatric brain cancer. Wear red shoes to show your support!

Ready to dip your toes in a challenge? If you are a student as of August 2026, faculty, staff, or alumni, you could win a $25 Amazon gift card! Each book you read is a chance to win!
